nator George, of Mussistippi, is one of the Bourbons now engaged in wasting the time of the begate in long winded speeches again t the Election bill. He thinks the South should be let alone, that is left free to murder white and black Republicans whenever the Bourbon (Dirit moves He comes from the delightful town of Carrollton where his friends and supporters who have threatened that the town should never have a Republican postmaster, bave recently assassinated a young man who good their boast. It was a most cowardly and brutal murder and the worst part of it is that the Southern ' gent emen" who perpetrated the foul deed go free. This is the natural outgrowth of the political REMEMBERmethods defended on the floor of the Senate by Mr George and his Bourbon colleagues. It is to perpetua e this system of murder and political crimes generally that the Democrats are making it the effort of their lives to defeat the Election No wonder the people are getting impatient at the dilatory per ormance of the benate in dealing with this most important legislation. They have long been tired of what is called Senator al courtesy, but when Senators undertake to place that in the balance as against human life and the rights of cruzens it is high time that onle entered an emphatic protest If the Republican Senators are w sether will lose no time in adopting a rule that will enable them to secure a vote on this bill

Matthe's seaside recorts are 5 mining, but abandoned farms Perhaps the Maine Republicans will say that bees 3,310 agratulturalists have got rich by protected farming, and have got on the in maneious as Rer Harbor and Old Oscherd —Boston

In answer to the above Democratic attempt to make capital out of the ababdoned farm question, we quote be columns of another Democ atle organ, namely, the

of another Demot allt organ, namely, and Bangor Commercial

These figures were cited by May C J House in an interesting add east before Capital Grange, of Augusta, int. Wednesday evening, but Maj. House is assisted these figures are on high or unshelding. Several seasons asy that many of the farms returned as abnuoned were originally experted farms but have long since been sold to adjacent owners and are now cultivated as parts of other farms, but only in one instance have the assessors been definite as to the number of such farms to they could be eliminated from the dount thad town being Waterford in the country of Oxford, which returned forty-five abandoned farms but supplemented the return with this remark "Of these commerciated farms, oil, with the exception of perturn with this remark "Of these enumer-ated farms, all, with the exception of per haps four are absorbed; these four are awditing purchasers" The same is doubt-less true of many other towns we hardly imagine the Globe will quest Lowrest tion the Democracy of the Commercial and yet in the paragraph quoted it will find a doned Maine farms.

Prices and the Tariff.

With reference to the persistent misstatements of the Chicago, Tribups regardby the effect of the McKinley bill no jeanned goods, Mr. O. L. Demlog, of the Спісадо Стосет, заув

"The Tribune has been steadily making statements regarding the McKinley but and its effects upon household supplies. It has been repeatedly stated that the price of canned mests has gone up, and that all other canned goods have advanced, all one to the McKinley tarifi.

"Now, in the first place, all the canned goods at present in the market were packed before the bil. was passed. Consequently the bill could not possibly affect them. The tin plate duty does not go into effect notif July 1,1891, so that tig cans can not yet be affected by the bill. All packers are contracting for their cases for the season of 1891 now. And most of the canned goods of the season of 1891 will be packed before the bill affects tin plate. So as a matter of fact the season of 1892 will be the very carilest time that tae Mo-Kinley bill could possibly affect these.

"It is true, however, that press on than they were a year ago, notwithstanding the statement of the Tribune that they have advanced. The following table of November prices will do for December

"But it is also a fact that other canned goods have advanced. This is due, not to the tin-plate duty, which you can readlly see could have nothing to do with it. but to the regular operation of the law of supply and demand. This is a well known fuct, and nobody but a resolute liar would attribute the rise in price to anything California packed nearly all the every day and bids fair to break the back firuit this year. The prices on some of the odds and ends of gracery stork have advanced.
